

After a week of unrelentingly bad news about Zimbabwe on the BBC, we arrived to scenes of Murambatsvina outside the Zimbabwe Embassy – a couple of down and outs basking in the sun surrounded by all their worldly possessions. Our problems were further compounded by the tardiness of the water board in removing their scruffy paraphernalia from our space between the four maple trees and two lamp-posts. But the sunshine cheered us up.

Vigil supporters discussed the forthcoming visit to the UK by Morgan Tsvangirai. He is to speak at 1 pm at Southwark Cathedral in South London next Saturday, 20th June and we agreed to be there before the Vigil to greet him with our banners 'No to Mugabe. No to Starvation' and 'End Murder Rape and Torture in Zimbabwe'. These have been our messages since the start of the Vigil seven years ago and it is distressing that they are as valid now as ever.

We will of course have the Vigil as normal and perhaps the Prime Minister may drop by – he is very welcome.

There was talk that Tsvangirai would be accompanied to the UK by two Zanu-PF ministers, Foreign Minister Simbarashe Mumbengengwi and the Minister of Mines Obert Mpofu. Both of them are on the targeted sanctions list and the Vigil approached the Foreign Office to protest at granting visas to these two Mugabe cronies.

We wrote: 'Dear Mr Miliband – We urge the UK government not to grant visas to Zimbabweans on the EU travel sanctions list. There are suggestions that two Zanu-PF leaders are to be part of a delegation led by the Prime Minister Morgan Tsvangirai this month.'

These officials, ZANU PF Foreign Affairs Minister Simbarashe Mumbengengwi and Obert Mpofu, ZANU PF's Minister of Mines, are deeply compromised.

We see no reason why they should be allowed to visit Europe

. The coalition government has clearly devolved responsibilities: Mugabe's Zanu-PF retains control of the military, the police, the judiciary, home affairs, the central bank, agriculture and information while the MDC is responsible for service delivery. Mr Tsvangirai does not need to be accompanied by Zanu-PF people on his begging mission to the West.'

The Vigil has been assured that Mr Mpfu will not be part of the delegation. Our assumption is that Mumbengengwi will be allowed in under a dispensation allowing for 'dialogue'.

The Vigil does not accept the case for relaxing targeted sanctions against Mumbengengwi. But we think he makes a better companion for the Prime Minister than Tsvangirai's niece Dr Arikana Chihombori who accompanied him to the inauguration of President Zuma.

As you may know she is an American citizen and has a large medical practice in the US where she has lived for 30 years. Nevertheless, she has seen fit to try to dispossess a Zimbabwean farmer for her holiday home.

Various points arise, among them the fact that Zimbabwe does not allow dual citizenship so how does she qualify for an 'offer letter'? The Vigil sent the following message to the US State Department 'Could the US Administration question Morgan Tsvangirai about his niece Dr Arikana Chihombori, who is a resident and has a medical practice in

US

Antioch

Tennessee

? She was chosen by Tsvangirai to accompany him recently to the inauguration of President Zuma of

South Africa

yet she is reportedly trying to seize a productive farm in Zimbabwe

like one of the Mugabe cronies (

We trust that the matter was taken up when the American administration talked to Tsvangirai. There are suggestions that Tsvangirai has been seriously embarrassed and his niece has apparently put a hold on her land grab.

Returning to the BBC's coverage of Zimbabwe, Vigil supporters watched the video of Sekai Holland being interviewed by BBC reporter Mike Thomson in which she spoke of plans to assassinate MDC ministers.

On the basis of this video and our knowledge of the BBC, we find her backtracking rather embarrassing.
