'Delay, deceive and destroy' is how Welshman Ncube describes Zanu PF's tactics as it fights to maintain Zimbabwe's status as the third poorest country in the world. (Poor, that is, for the people – not the rulers. Indeed, for the Zanu PF mafia it is a land of 'indigenised' milk and honey.)

We at the Vigil were glad to hear Morgan Tsvangirai insist that reforms laid out in the GPA must be implemented before the elections (see: <http://www.zimeye.org/?p=79494&cpage=1> – Zimbabwe: Tsvangirai Performs U-turn on Elections)

. But the Vigil wants him to go further and spell out that, if the reforms are not made, he will not take part in the elections and be the donkey in a new Government of National Unity. (As Professor Ncube might put it, 'the fourth D'.)

Mr Tsvangirai says he is to tour the region to seek support. The message the Vigil gets is that support is there – particularly from South Africa – but what is needed is the determination and courage he showed ten years ago. He must know that the region cannot allow another rigged election.

The Vigil believes that if SADC can help to level the electoral playing field and control Zanu PF intimidation there is little doubt that informed voters would not support a party that has destroyed the economy and shows no sign of changing its ways. As the economist Eric Bloch pointed out, foreign direct investment slumped to about $33 million in the first quarter of the year (see: http://www1.zimbabwesituation.com/apr27a_2013.html#Z17 – Massive slump in foreign investment). To put this in perspective, a single house in London is on the market for more than ten times this figure (see: <http://www.dailymail.co.uk/news/article-2313036/The-250MILLION-home-London-house-set-UKs>)

Other points

- Thanks to Rose Maponga for mending our banners 'End murder, rape and torture in Zimbabwe' and 'No to Mugabe, no to starvation'. We have had these banners since the start of the Vigil more than ten years ago and sadly they are as relevant as ever. We are also grateful to Rose for taking charge of the front table. Others who arrived early to help us put up the tarpaulin in the rain were Peter Sidindi, Nkosikona Tshabangu and Ishmael Makina. Thanks to Ishmael for looking after the back table.

- Check: <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=CUym9P64Rpg&feature=youtu.be> to view Martin Chinyanga's video of the Vigil on 20th April when we marked Independence Day.

FOR THE RECORD: 40 signed the register.
