Itai Dzamara, a respected journalist and pro-democracy activist, founder and leader of Occupy Africa Unity Square Movement, was abducted on 9th March 2015 in Harare. The movement had its origins on 17th October 2014 when Dzamara submitted a petition to Robert Mugabe over the "failure to deliver government to promptly and effectively manage the country". He was seen being bundled into an unmarked car by five unidentified people. His whereabouts are still unknown.

"Itai was the breadwinner and his wife Sheffra has to survive through help from family members. The couple have two children, a boy of 7 and a girl of 3, and the kids are traumatised," Patson Dzamara, Itai's brother said.

Please make a donation to assist Itai's family. Your donation could help in buying food for the children and paying for legal fees. After his abduction, his wife approached the High Court in Harare to force the police and the Central Intelligence Organisation (CIO) to search for her husband.

All donations should be directed to Patson Dzamara, Itai Dzamara's brother, via money sending services such as Western Union, World Remit or Moneygram or contact Patson Dzamara: 00263772889217, patsondzamara@gmail.com.

If you use money sending services please send the receipt ONLY, showing what is required for the recipient to collect the money in Zimbabwe such as MTCN number, test question and answer etc and the amount donated to Tendai Kwari: tendai.kwari@yahoo.com. He will forward the information to the recipient.

Please share or forward this appeal to your family and friends to help spread the message.

At the Zimbabwe Vigil on Saturday 14/03/2014, £67.52 was collected and has been sent to Itai's family.

Thank you for taking your time to read this appeal.

Yours sincerely
